

This wall is designed for visual pleasure in a combination of wood, marble and gold leafing

Asymmetrical elements in the dining are picked from the theme

NARROWING IT DOWN TO SPACIOUS OUTLOOK

BY AUM ARCHITECTS

As said by Norman Foster; “As an architect you design for the present, with an awareness of the past for a future which is essentially unknown.” This project is reflective of just that. Located in Mumbai, with an area of approx. 1270 sqft, this residence pushes forward an intelligent urban design for an easy modern day living. The objective and idea behind was to conquer the irregularity present in the site space, transforming it into a cohesive modern design.

The main challenge was to put forth a progressive design evolving from this irregular shape formed in the process of combining the two adjacent flats thus creating various pockets in the long living room. So the design revolved around this irregularity, creating a vibrant composition

“
As an architect you design for the present, with an awareness of the past for a future
which is essentially unknown.”

A full length mirror panel with indirect lighting was customised on site for the dresser.

Overseeing the unique formal seating in the foreground and the dining area in the background

Common bathroom finished in champagne grey marble and onyx

Ar Manish Dikshit
Aum Architects, Gurugram

About the Firm

Having graduated from VIT's PVP college of Architecture, Ar. Manish Dikshit started his Architectural career under the tutelage of internationally recognized Architect, Hafeez Contractor. His fervour interest and sincerity of understanding complexities of Architecture and Design allowed him to work on large-scale projects ranging from sprawling townships to urban scale master plans. Under his able tutelage, AUM Architects have completed over 120 projects, for eminent clientele spanning across 10 countries including UAE, Singapore, and Spain, which has led them to be titled as a leading consultant in Interior Design and Architectural services globally.

A back lit customized head board comprises of laser cut panel with classical geometric Motifs

Name of the Project: Godha Residence

Firm: Aum Architects

Client Name: Rishi Godha

Project Location: Jogeshwari, Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Plot Area: 1266 sqft

Architects: Manish Dikshit

perfectly expressing elegance and style with a stamp of creative impression. The design sensibility was to have an organised chaos. It is challenging to turn hurdles into items of aesthetics and take them away from being the eyesore that they are.

This everyday living area is the central core that ties the design and its occupants together, overlooking the entire apartment space. The colour scheme was kept neutral with a pinch of colour seen in soft furnishings.

The apartment is aptly built upon urbane living, yet celebrating freedom of thought and space. Overall, a refreshing design created by breaking the monotony of rigid closures of a tight apartment space.

The main challenge was to put forth a progressive design evolving from this irregular shape formed in the process of combining the two adjacent flats thus creating various pockets in the long living room.